WE ❤️ OUR CLIENTS!

The evidence is clear: tires should have an expiration date. Tire aging is a "hidden hazard" and the useful life of a tire is around 6 years regardless of tread depth. Tires are made mostly of rubber and begin to weaken and fall apart as they age because of oxidation — just like an old rubber band. In 1973, average tread life was approximately 24K miles. Tire tread life has quadrupled in the last 40 years. As tread life becomes less of a factor in the service life of a tire, age/ oxidation becomes a more serious concern — particularly in hotter climates. If you're not sure how old your tires are, stop by anytime and we can check for you.

See You Soon! - Mark

THANKS FOR YOUR KIND WORDS!

"What a nice surprise! Upon our arrival home from a Christmas trip to Chicago, we had a box waiting for us. Thank you so much for the wonderful treat from Pear's! About 15 years ago we moved to Papillion from Bellevue. We had been customers of yours for about 5 years prior to that, and we assumed we could find a reliable car service company in our new community that we liked as much as we like you. We were DEAD wrong! After trying out a couple of places, we decided that we were silly to have even considered trying out different companies. You are BY FAR the best car service company in the area. You have become a trusted member of our "extended family", and over the years we have recommended you to many, many other people. Thank you for your dedication to customers. You truly understand the meaning of "customer service". We appreciate you so much. God bless you all!" — Karen Moritz, Papillion

Easy OREO Truffles

- 1 (16 oz) package OREO Chocolate Sandwich Cookies, divided
- 1 (8 oz) package Cream Cheese, softened
- 2 (8 oz) packages BAKER'S Semi-Sweet Baking Chocolate, melted

1. Crush 9 of the cookies to fine crumbs in food processor; reserve for later use. (Cookies can also be finely crushed in a resealable plastic bag using a rolling pin.) Crush remaining 36 cookies to fine crumbs; place in medium bowl. Add cream cheese; mix until well blended. Roll cookie mixture into 42 balls, about 1-inch in diameter.
2. Dip balls in chocolate; place on wax paper-covered baking sheet. (Any leftover chocolate can be stored at room temperature for another use.) Sprinkle with reserved cookie crumbs.
3. Refrigerate until firm, about 1 hour. Store leftover truffles, covered, in refrigerator.

Happy Valentine's Day!
